Sailing trips on KAIRÓS, CHRONOS and RHEA

Three stunning classic yachts offering low carbon luxury sailing holidays in beautiful destinations.

RHEA

The act of simply sitting on the beautiful teak deck planks on the majestic yacht RHEA is magical. From this view point you are able to admire the azure waters passing by, watching as the light dances on the waves whilst the ship's mighty hull leads the way across the sea.

With the wind in your hair, sun on your face and fresh salty sea air filling your lungs it is total and utter relaxation.

Built in the timeless style of the classic yachts RHEA, with her 54 m length and 1.000 sm sail area, is one of the 50 largest sailing yachts in the world. The graceful steel hull, finished in teak and mahogany, contains 14 comfortable double cabins, all with air-conditioning and en-suite bathrooms.

RHEA and CHRONOS are your very own boutique hotels at sea.

THE EXPERIENCE ON BOARD:

Choose to take the helm, trim the sails or enjoy being pampered.

Sit and lose yourself as the waves go by from the comfort of our large teak decks. Spend the hours reading or keep eyes on the ocean as you may be lucky and spot dolphins, turtles or even whales ...

Utter relaxation.

CHRONOS

Is the sister ship to RHEA and also built in the timeless style of the 1920's and 1930's classic yachts. She accommodates up to 26 guests. Sailing means depending on wind and weather and not following a pre-planned routing. It means to simply drifting and taking advantage of every breeze...

During the night we usually anchor in quiet bays. So you can jump in to swim directly from the boat in the morning or one of our two dinghies will take you ashore for a walk on the beach. A dedicated crew of 10 will pamper you and navigate and sail the boat.

Unwind while discovering the freedom of life at sea surrounded by a company of like-minded welcoming people, many of whom often leave as friends.

KAIRÓS

The smaller sister to CHRONOS and RHEA, gorgeous KAIRÓS may have less to offer in size but she is equal in beauty and caliber. At 38m in length, KAIRÓS offers 600 sm of sail area with plenty of space for the maximum of 16 guests.

Built in 2007, she is perfectly formed and is also ideal for private full charters to mark special occasions, spend time with extended family, friends or as a venue for business events.

KAIRÓS is an ancient Greek word and when translated into English it means 'a favourable moment, the qualitative time of life', a sentiment we believe KAIRÓS truly embodies.

Welcome aboard...

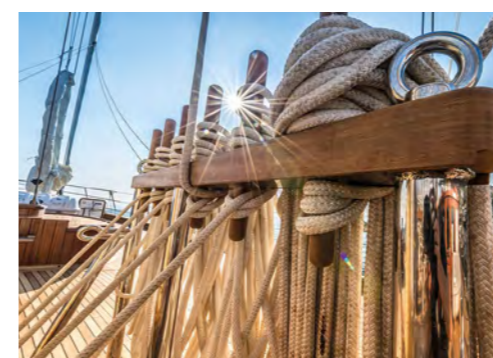

Discover the most beautiful areas of the Mediterranean in summer and the Caribbean in winter on board our exclusive luxury sailing yachts built in the classic style. Only up to 16 guests on KAIRÓS and 26 on CHRONOS and RHEA share this exclusive pleasure.

The mostly one-week sailing trips, the Sailing Yacht Cruises, combine relaxed sailing with swimming, shore excursions and plenty of relaxation. Our handful of family cruises are designed to attract families with children so these do offer a somewhat more coordinated routing. For those wishing to learn more about a destination, join one of our themed cruises where a travel guide is on board to ensure you get the most from your chosen location. Distance cruises appeal to all those who want to sail a little more. Transfers those who want to sail exclusively, also crossing the Atlantic to the Caribbean and back to Europe. Sailing enthusiasts look forward to regatta watching Les Voiles de St. Tropez or active participation in the Antigua Classic Yacht Regatta.

Our sailing trips are ideal for guests looking for an individual holiday in a small group of like-minded people. No previous sailing experience is required and you may choose to be as hands on or off as you would like, safe in the knowledge the yachts are being sailed by knowledgeable experts.

Look forward to the friendly service of the professional crew. The on-board languages are English and German.

The cabins can be booked by individuals, by couples or as a family. Also possible is an exclusive private full charter of the entire ship for larger families, groups of friends or business events.

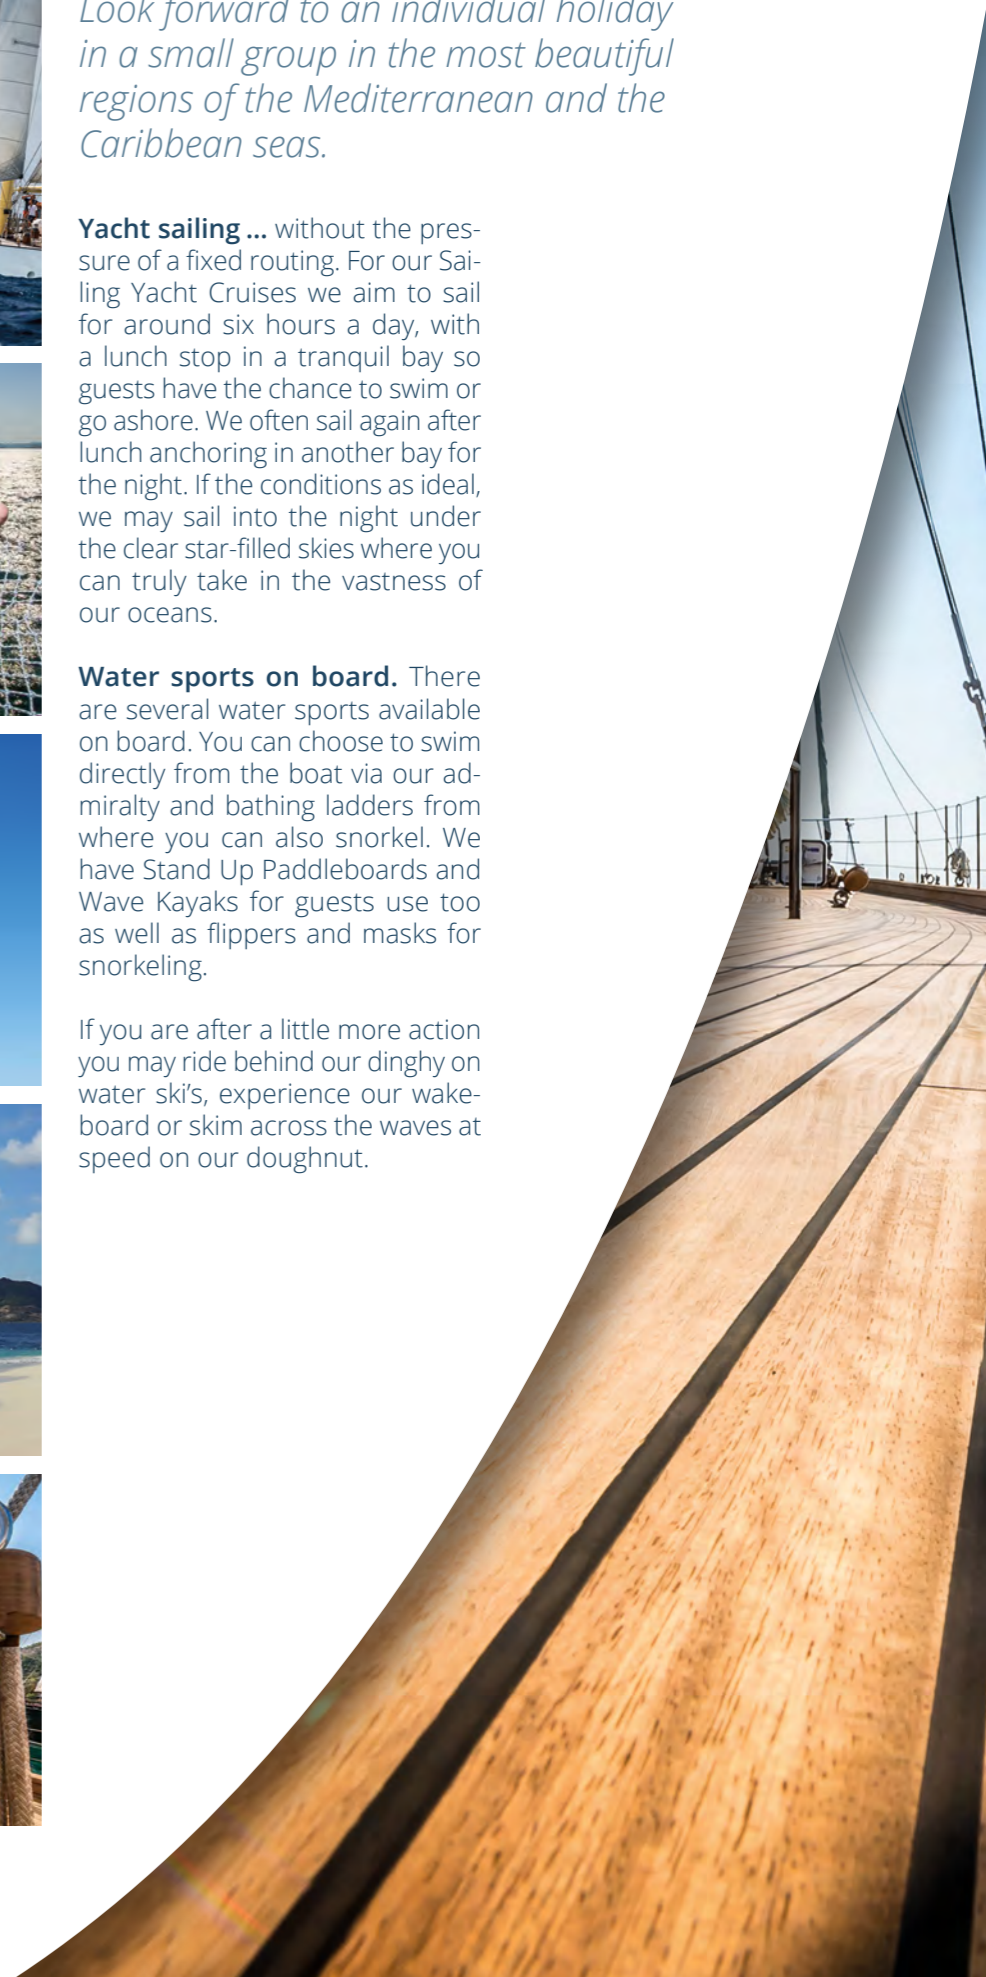

Look forward to an individual holiday in a small group in the most beautiful regions of the Mediterranean and the Caribbean seas.

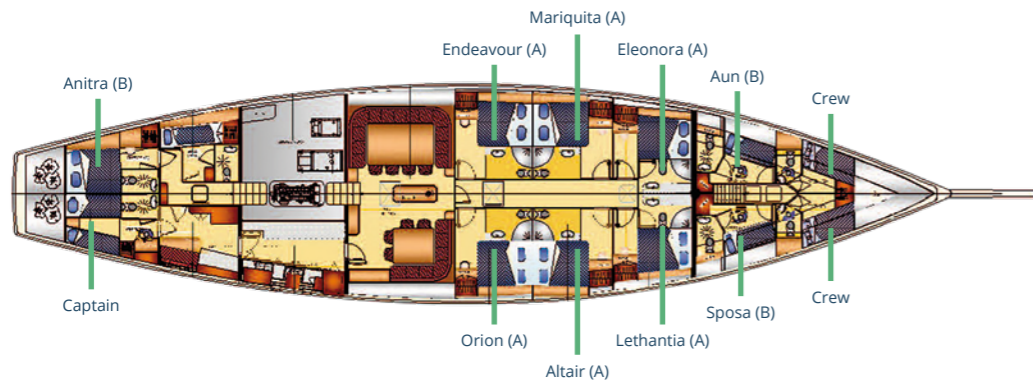

Yacht sailing ... without the pressure of a fixed routing. For our Sailing Yacht Cruises we aim to sail for around six hours a day, with a lunch stop in a tranquil bay so guests have the chance to swim or go ashore. We often sail again after lunch anchoring in another bay for the night. If the conditions are ideal, we may sail into the night under the clear star-filled skies where you can truly take in the vastness of our oceans.

Water sports on board. There are several water sports available on board. You can choose to swim directly from the boat via our admiralty and bathing ladders from where you can also snorkel. We have Stand Up Paddleboards and Wave Kayaks for guests use too as well as flippers and masks for snorkeling.

If you are after a little more action you may ride behind our dinghy on water ski's, experience our wakeboard or skim across the waves at speed on our doughnut.

SUSTAINABILITY.

Already now we set sails the majority of the time we are at sea, providing the winds are in our favour. When necessary, we will turn on the engines and we do have generators to support the main engine, the seawater desalination, cooking, washing, drying and cooling. Over the past few years we have solely been using AGO – automotive diesel which has a significantly lower sulphur content. To try and minimize our CO2 emissions – which are already lower than many other vessels – we aim to use synthetic diesel which ideally is produced by electricity generated from renewable sources.

We are also working on an innovative new concept so watch this space!

All three vessels are registered as commercial yachts and sail with professional crew. CHRONOS and RHEA under the Dutch flag, KAIRÓS under Maltese. They combine classic design and outstanding sailing performance with spacious cabins and comfort.

...to travel the world.

ATLANTIC:

To explore the infinite vastness of the ocean on a sailing yacht - the dream of so many sailors. In autumn we use the trade winds for the crossing from the Cape Verde Islands or the Canaries to the Caribbean. In spring the even more exciting route back to Europe. Up to 3,000 nautical miles non-stop. The guests are welcome to steer or join the watches.

CARIBBEAN:

Constant trade winds, water in all shades of blue and turquoise, small bays, tropical nature and wildlife, the Caribbean joie de vivre, reggae, volcanoes and sugar beaches - the Caribbean is just perfect for sailors ...

MEDITERRANEAN:

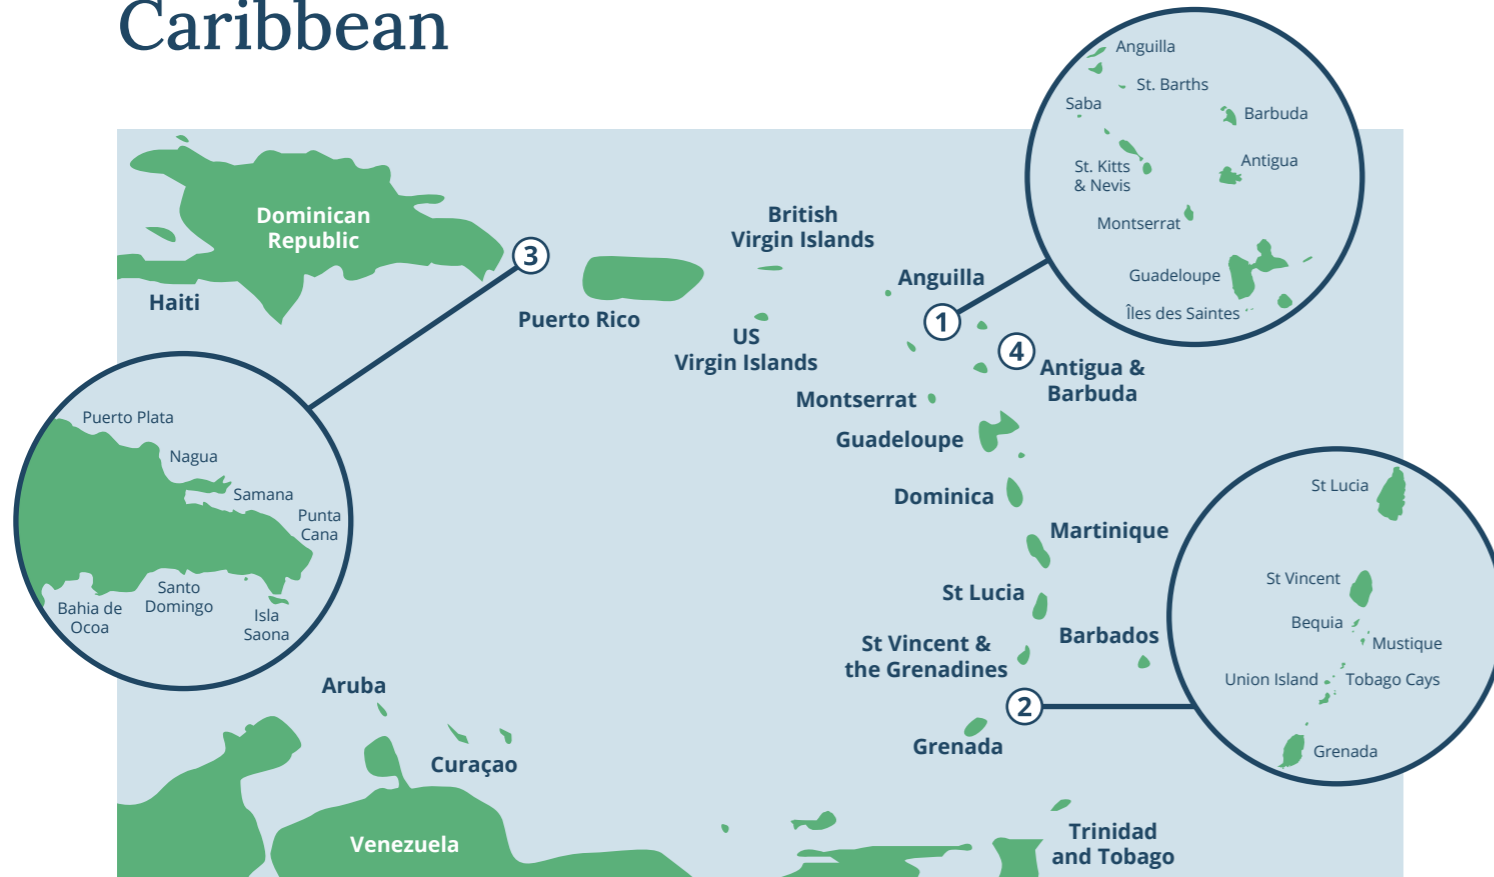

Follow in the footsteps of the early seafarers and experience the most beautiful islands and coasts from the sea. A sailing holiday on board one of our yachts means relaxed sailing along spectacular stretches of coastline such as the Costa Smeralda in Sardinia, the Amalfi coast, off Sicily with the Lipari Islands or the Greek Cyclades.

ATLANTIC - CAP VERDES:

Discover the Cape Verde Islands in 8- or 10-night cruises. Far off the coast of Africa in the Atlantic. Constant trade winds, still very warm even in November, steep volcanic islands with tropical vegetation, flat sand islands with desert character, a mix of Africa and Portuguese colonial history.

Mostly four days of regatta with different courses, beautiful ships and a colourful crowd of sailors from all over the world. Caribbean joie de vivre - a spectacular experience for real sailors, but also for those who ‘just’ admire the scenery!

Our sailing area, the Lesser Antilles from Grenada in the south to the British Virgin Islands (BVI) in the north is like a string of pearls, stretching across 600 nautical miles, approx. 1,000 km.

This is sailor’s paradise, you know.

The diverse, mostly volcanic islands, the tropical climate, the flourishing nature and the constant north-easterly trade winds do offer sailing par excellence. Conditions you hardly find anywhere else.

Trade winds and waves. In the south the usual wind is east, that’s why sailors prefer to sail in lee of the islands to the north or south. In the north the wind is more north east. Occasionally the trade wind can fresh up to appr. 8 bft. The regular 4 - 6 bft. are ideal for our vessels. It is usually calm in the shelter of the islands.

Above all the Caribbean is a natural experience on and under water. Turtles, dolphins, sometimes even whales. Frigate birds, terns and pelicans, hummingbirds and parrots. Endless beaches, snorkeling hot-spots, green volcanic cones, waterfalls, historic forts and picturesque colonial architecture. Luxury resorts and local markets, Creole cuisine, reggae, rum...

Different cruises

The magic of the sea...

Appr. four to six hours of sailing a day, lunch in a bay, time for bathing, swimming and water sports, for shore excursions and relaxation, when the winds are favourable, move to another bay to spend the night at anchor – that's the concept of our Sailing Yacht Cruises.

We have a recommendation for the routing of the individual voyage. For each cruise the Captain will choose the best routing according to the actual wind and weather conditions. This is how yacht sailing works.

Eastern Mediterranean

① CROATIA / DALMATIAN ISLANDS

One of the most popular sailing areas with good winds, crystal clear water, a huge variety of islands, a rich history, small bays and pretty little harbour villages. Ideal for relaxed sailing, strolling in the bays and enjoying.

② CORFU / IONIAN ISLANDS

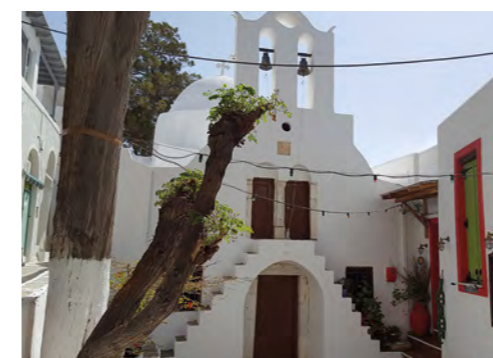

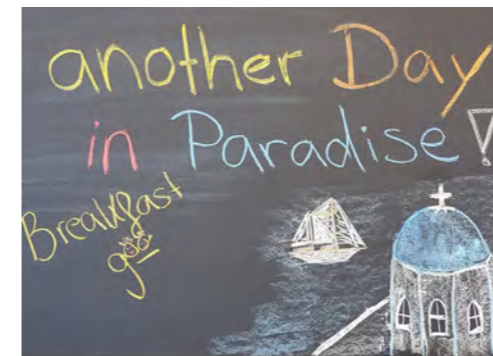

Discover an even more unknown part of Greece. The very green Corfu, in the north, not far from Albania, with a long Venetian history, Paxos and Antipaxos with turquoise green bays like in the Caribbean, Lefkas and Ithaca, the home of Odysseus. A sailing area with mostly light winds and less waves, so very suitable also for sailing beginners.
nm: 150 / nights: 7

③ CYCLADES

Snow-white cubic houses, churches with bright blue domes, pretty villages and small harbours, deep blue sea as far as the eye can see - the Aegean Sea is white, blue and light. There are one-week cruises in the southern Cyclades from/to Santorini via Ios, Amorgos, Paros and Folegandros. Sailing into the huge caldera of Santorini is more than impressive. ④ SARONIC GULF AND PELOPONNESE

We added the Saronic Gulf and the Peloponnese to our cruise plan, from/to Piraeus close to Athens and Nafplio south of Corinth. Here you are protected from the Meltemi, which can be strong in summer, and have a lot of choices for all weather conditions. A cruise can lead from Piraeus via Aegina, the excavations of Epidauros on the Peloponnese, Poros and Spetses to Nafplio. The other one-way trip from Nafplio with good winds to the south of the Peloponnese to Monemvasia and Pavlopetri and back via Hydra (in the footsteps of Leonard Cohen!), Aegina and possibly Salamis to Piraeus.
nm: 150 - 300 / nights: 7

Life on board follows its own rules. Amidst the vastness and the constantly changing scenery of the sea, along idyllic coastlines, which from the water unfold their own magic, you will experience special sailing holidays - far away from everyday life. Help the crew set the sails or just slow down and relax on the large teak deck. We will explore caves with the dinghy, practice knots with the bosun or learn about the different sails.

In the evening, everyone looks forward to a good dinner all together on deck and the conversations with the other guests, which often last for quite a long time.

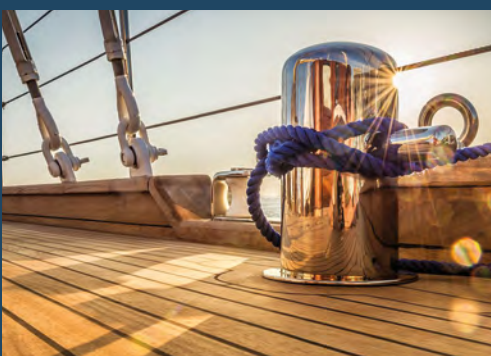

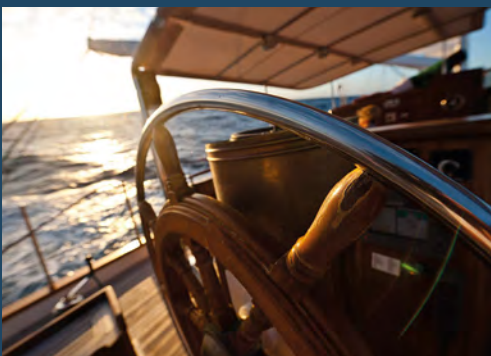

Hardly nowhere else can you relax and calm down so quickly as on a sailing yacht.
